

Horse Owner Seminar: Keeping Horses Healthy

Saturday, Oct. 18 from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
University of Missouri College of Veterinary Medicine
Adams Conference Center

Join us for a series of educational talks covering a range of equine health topics.
We will also offer tours of the Equine Hospital and a chance to meet the Mizzou Mule Team.

This program is approved for six hours of veterinary and veterinary technician Continuing Education (CE).

Cost is $30 for general participants, $60 for CE credit.

TOPICS INCLUDE

"QH Genetic Testing: The Meaning Behind the Acronyms"
Dr. Kile Townsend

"Seasonal Strategies: Hot and Cold Weather Management"
Dr. Kaylynn Dunn

"Sound Steps Ahead: Redefining the Navicular Prognosis"
Dr. Gabi Abbott

"What to Expect When Your Horse has Colic Surgery"
Dr. Alexandra Warren

"Hay is for Hungry, Hungry Horses: Nutrition Basics for the Healthy Horse"
Dr. Hannah Eggert

"Bite-sized Biosecurity Tidbits: Biosecurity on the Horse Farm and Preparing for an Outbreak"
Dr. Hannah R. Leventhal

"Neigh-ked No More: A Guide to Covering Limb Wounds"
Dr. Jena Zientek

"Equine Research: What's Happening at Mizzou and How Owners Can Get Involved"
Dr. Lynn M. Martin

"Shielding Your Horse: The Why Behind Core Vaccines"
Dr. Gabby Balaa

"Summertime Blues: Dealing with Summer Sores"
Dr. Gabrielle Gonzalez

"The Horse's Back Talk: Unraveling Kissing Spine"
Dr. Sam McClanahan

"The Ins and Outs of Joint Injections"
Dr. Dan Thurston

Thank you to our sponsors

zoetis

